JD3TV, A New Streaming Platform With The Unique Ability For Subscribers To Launch Their Own TV Show Or Series, Just Like Those On Netflix, Hulu, Or Amazon Prime <https://jd3.tv/>

JD3 Media Has Launched JD3TV; This Live Interactive Streaming Platform Will Be A Game Changer In The Way That People Watch TV

Just imagine, a new streaming platform with the special unique ability for its subscribers to be able to launch their very own TV Show or Series, just like those on Netflix, Hulu, or Amazon Prime.

Dr. James Dentley's latest venture JD3TV will provide the education and technological base for artists, entertainers, business leaders, and life coaches to amplify their voice and reach – and, of course, create an additional revenue stream.

Dentley has already established himself as a renowned entrepreneur through Total Life Changes, his mentoring, and life coaching business. His industry-leading public speaking boot camp, Inspired2Speak, has produced countless superstar orators. "I've been fortunate throughout my life and learned so much, and now I am driven to share this knowledge with a larger audience," he says. "It's time to give back in the biggest possible way."

Dr. James Dentley is all about other people's stories. As a marketing titan and transformational guru, entrepreneur, and public speaking coach, he has trained and educated people from every corner of the globe and, at last count, had created 84 millionaires. He's seen a lot, done a lot, and inspired a lot of people. But now, at 63, he feels he's just getting started.

Yet while Dentley is the ultimate champion of his students and disciples, his own story is a fascinating one, a heroic, come-from-behind battle to upturn the odds, and one that nearly met with failure on more than one occasion.

Dentley's desire to give back is rooted in his own underdog story and wanting to help others rise up:

Finally, the odds have turned in Dentley's favor.

Here is what people are saying about him now:

- "James has this ability to connect the dots," former NBA All-Star Mark Aguirre, now a close personal friend and also from Chicago, said. "He has this way of talking to you, which makes everything seem possible."
- "There is always the personal touch with James," renowned business mentor and author Sharon Lechter said. "He is kind and thoughtful — and you can see how much it means to him for the people he meets to find their own success."
- "James Dentley is genuine – he loves people, and people love him," says Kevin Harrington, one of the original panelists on the hit TV show Shark Tank. "He started from absolutely nothing, and he has dedicated his life to serving others and inspiring people to have the best life they can possibly have."

JD3TV – Life-Changing Disruptive Entertainment – JD3TV is a network that Entertains, Inspires, and Transforms audiences around the world through video, live, and on-demand content. Providing original series that astound, inspire, and amaze.
